Last Will and Testament

I, Brian McGuire, being of unsound mind and body do will and bequeath my ability to be dismissed from Spanish II (Maj. Hinrichs) to Earnest Turner, and my ability to go A.W.O.L. to anyone who wants it.

I, John McClain, will to Hiawatha a new pressing machine, so that all future cadets may have only one crease in their pants instead of two or three.

I, Jerry Lyall, do dedicate every empty beer can to dear old F. M. S.

I, Joe Luongo, do leave my gold tooth to Smiling Gladhill.

I, Chuck Luberger, do hereby will and bequeath to any unfortunate mister who by the hand of fate follows in my footsteps, the excuses I gave to my squad leader.

I, Gene LeFloch, do leave my curly hair to Ken Bruner, and my eight fingers to Phil Guthrie.

I, "Porky" Thomas Fredrick Kelly III, being of sound mind and feeble spine, do will my orange doughnut to Stoyke, my ability to lodge in the infirmary during G. I. to Bankert, my ability to exist in the A. W. O. L. room to Lofland, and a pair of gold plated, diamond studded fencing foils to Moser.

I, Warren Jones, being of weak body and weaker mind do hereby grant my ability to maintain order and strict discipline in my superior squad to the rat that next year has the honor of taking it over.

I, Ronald Hyman, "Fella", as my last will and testament, leave my ability to dance to any young gentleman at this fine academic school. I know he will appreciate this fine art because it will help make him a well rounded American youth. I also wish to leave my spot at the fine girls school, Fairfax Hall, and to be the last to leave on Saturdays and Sundays. I hope all the cadets survive without the expert driving of the day students. (Better known as Al's Cab.) I leave my great love of Fishburne to the cadet corps of the coming years.

I, Lester Hudgins, do will and bequeath my ability to box to Jim Mathewson.

I, Ralph, "Spooky" Hoover, being of sound mind and fair health do hereby leave to Rancy Snyder, Don Bergman, and Ken Urquhart all the dates I didn't get for them at Fairfax. I leave to Marshall Hollis my ears. They fit him better than they do me.

I, Marshall Hollis, being of sound mind and over-muscular body do will and bequeath my magnificent football helmet to anyone with a HEAD big enough to fill it and all my empty shaving cream cans to Maj. Davis, my ability to have a good time at dear old F.M.S. to any one down-hearted soul who needs it.

I, Otto Holcomb, leave to Bootie Hubbard: my civies, so carefully hidden all year; to some lucky guy the little rides on Sunday afternoons; and to the future occupants of Cell 133 the hope for the good times I had in that cell; and to my ex-roommate a good chocolate cake; aslo to some lucky guy my guidon.

I, Carlos Guardia, do leave all my merits to my brother, Rolando; he will need them.

I, Doug Gray, leave Fishburne with no regrets and with a bright outlook for the future.

I, Hugh Glenn, do hereby leave Ernie Turner a new name, Rebel, so he can remember his little Northern friend.

I, Bob Ginsburg, hereby will and bequeath to my roommate, Morgan Hotaling, a silver comb, so he can spend many more pleasure-filled hours in front of the mirror, and my unusual accent to our southern neighbors.

I, George Gillock, do will my locker in the Day Students Room to any mixed up Waynesboro High School idiot who wants to come here next year.

I, Robert Gascoyne, do leave to Bill Carlisle my pew in St. Donut Dinettes.

I, Murt English, do will the whole wet swimming team to Phipard.

I, Bill Dudley, being of unstable mind do hereby bequeath all my joys at Fishburne (Ha!) to my two illustrious roommates, Pinhead and Lily.

I, James T. Duckworth, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to do as much with so little effort to any nonchalant lad who will readily accept it. To Paul Guercio I leave my ability to fail to progress in the game of chess. To any little robust cadet, I will my ability to be seen at Fairfax many week-ends in succession.

I, Fletcher Fitzgerald Drake, do hereby will my ability to paint other schools cannons to "Bootie", the underclassman member of the "clan"; nightowlship and skill. I will the next C. Q. Editor — Pete — in winning — usually — the cat and mouse game with the O. C. in seeing if I can keep my lights on later than he stays up; dexterity in counting days 'til next weekend to all next year's four year seniors; and lastly, I gladly leave my superior skill in understanding Col. Singletary in Col. Alg., Trig., Anal., and Solid to any unfortunate soul who might be as confused as I am.

I, Bob Crosson, of sound mind and fit body do will to any "Knight of the Hall" my ability to handle Fairfax girls on call and any place. I will my lipstick, Honor Guard cord, to anyone that dates a loving girl that loves to make out with it.

I John Clarke, do will and bequeath to Earl Lofland the ability to miss 64 out of 71 rifle practices and still remain on the team with the ability to shoot 282 in the All State.

I, Simon Carlo, do hereby will and bequeath my transom to Colonel Young, my ability to get lost after a dance to Paul, and to Santamaria my smooth way of getting out of tours.

I, Jack E. Bugg, being of weak mind and weaker body will my ability to keep my Senior English notebook up to date to anyone who will stay up all night, to any reliable cadet the A.W.O.L. room, and sadly (ha) leave dear old F.M.S.

I, J. Roderic Bland, Jr., of sound mind and good health do leave to Paul Guerico all of my basketball points scored in my basketball career at Fishburne Military School.

I, William Blakeley, will and bequeath all my experiences, both good and bad, to all the present and future cadets here at Fishburne.

I, Don Bergman, do hereby finish my secondary education at dear old F.M.S. I leave my "low cuts" to Rancy Snyder, my determination to beat "this ball club" to "Lilly" Livingston, to my roommate some pins to attach his Marlboro packs to the wall and to "Spook" Hoover my hopes of seeing the "Grand Old Opera" in Nashville.

Last Will and Testament

I, Moe-jack Barner, being of fat mind and skinny knowledge do hereby leave my two very small room-mates all my excess fat because they need it more than I.

I, Scott Anderson, do hereby will and bequeath my misanthropic personality to Jim-Jim Gladhill, a scholarship to V.M.I. to Major Davis, my muscular build to Nolan, and my best wishes to all future Cadets.

I, Douglas McVey, will all the luck in the world to the future students of Col. Young, because you'll need it.

I, Nick Newberry, do hereby will and bequeath my last cigarette, as usual, to Bobby Taylor, my ability to play a suspense filled game of chess to Jimmy Duckworth, my excellent voice of command to my First Sergeant, Mel Lapes, and my slightly used tube of chap stick to Ned Webb.

I, Miguel Nieto, leave my ability to wrestle to my roommate Alexi Cavalieri and any experience of dates at Fairfax Hall to Paulino Cavalieri.

I, Raul Nieto, leave to the Cavalieri brothers all my senior yearbooks and to Santamaria (Santa) my ability to answer Delinquencies.

I, Walter James Nivins, will and bequeath my "side burns" to Sam Saunders and to "Lester" Hudgins who took them anyway.

I, Dave Noel, will and bequeath my dearly beloved algebra book to Capt. "Babe"

I, Robert Nunley, leave my rank to Chip King in four years if he can stick it out that long.

I, Bill Phillips, leave to the future occupants of cell 133: I hope you have as good a chocolate cake as I did, thanks to my "Romeo" roommates coming in from all those town girls, also, good luck in dating Fairfax; believe me, you'll need it!

I, Bill Pitt, hereby will and bequeath: (1) To Tuck Johnston my ability to remain in love for more than a year, (2) to F.M.S. all of its method and tradition, (3) to the rifle team a push button target carrier, and (4) my ability to paint cannons to the Class of '61.

I, "Buzzer" Richardson, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to cause riots in the Chapel, and my very beat-up set of skins to anyone so unfortunate as I; and my charter membership in the Northern Club to Colonel Young, who is dying to get in.

I, Sam Saunders, will and bequeath my ability not to commit suicide during my most trying moments to the poor guy who gets the Battle Group next year.

I, Guy Shepard, leave my ability to play the clarinet to McReynolds, my nickname "Weenie" to Flintom, who gave it to me, and my ability to pass Senior English grammar to Arch Hudgins.

I, Bud Smith, do hereby will and bequeath to any Senior next year my ability to slip past the O.C. the night before Thanksgiving and carry out the old "Tradition"! I also leave to George Crowder my ability to pass Senior English, to Barry Denenberg, my ability to stay out of big study hall. Last but not least, I do leave Gracefully.

I, Dave (Honnaker) Stonaker, being less than intelligent leave to Pete Howton my linoleum floor, to Barry Denenberg an unfinished gym, and to this "annex 2" my thanks, also a special thanks to cook.

I, Herman Stone, leave my ability to work hard and receive a Platoon Leader in two years.

I, Bill Taliferro, don't have too much to leave anyone, so I'll just leave my best wishes to everyone.

I, Robert Taylor, will my use of the sun lamp to Bill Carlisle and my ability to grow a beard to Bill Blakeley. I will my ability to be gay and debonair at Fairfax Hall to Jim Duckworth, if he so desires, and my ability to drive safely to Fella Hyman.

I, T. J. Trainor, being of warped mind and broken body, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to stay excused military for no less than six weeks, to any indolent spastic who has the luck and co-ordination to sprain his ankle on Bob's club.

I, Ray Tyson, do hereby bequeath my talented ability to forget to attend Reveille and to leave on countless weekends for sports and other places unknown to the youngster who will undergo an extensive training program.

I, Harry B. Underwood II, do will and bequeath to Arch Hudgins a pair of pants to carry to the pressing club, to Mel Lapes my ability to draft the assistant editor to work many (?) hours on the yearbook, and to Fletcher Drake an opportunity to go to the Key Club Convention.

I, Walter L. Underwood, having been of sound mind and body (?) sadly relinquish to any fun-loving trustworthy (?) cadet: (1) the A.W.O.L. room, (2) the ability to stay up all night to decorate for dances, (3) the privilege to enter the Thanksgiving Painting Festival held the night before Thanksgiving at A.M.A. and (4) a battered but luxurious roll-away bed, which has served well its purpose.

I, Ken Urquhart, after living through three years of "C. B." do hereby will and bequeath my chart of Bobby's goofs with a pad and golden pen for future goofs to Dick Livingston, a carton of Winstons to my roommate Bergman; my chemistry grades I give back to Capt. Langrall; and to "Spooky" and Jake I leave my world-wide travelogues.

I, Bill Ward, being of crumbling body and no intelligence do hereby bequeath my ability to go steady to Tuck Johnson, my fine voice to Mel Lapes and my ability to go A.W.O.L. to any bored cadet, my don't care attitude to John Crosby and my Fishburne memories to all tour walkers.

I, Wayne Weaver, of sound mind and body will my ability to receive promotions for screwing around to Stites McDaniel.

I, Henri Weems, leave my rusty military equipment to next year's suckers and my mob and F. B. I. wanted pictures to Benson.

I, Richard Wells, will my ability to speak understandable Spanish to Fritz Hayhurst in hopes that he will stop saying aba-aba-aba, to Joe McDaniel, a book on how to be a cool guy written by his neighbors in Room 206.

I, Arnold Wolman, bequeath my debtfulness to maneuver through the mole patrol and other tight places at F.M.S. to Moser and Molinero.

I, Vernon Wood, will my ability to pass Colonel Young's "Redbook" tests to Rancy Snyder.

I, Zeke Zimmerman, will my weight to Ronnie Knicely who has plenty.

Football

The Fishburne Caissons were weak at the beginning of the season, but with succeeding games, they became harder to beat.

After dropping the first five football games the garnet and gold came back fighting. They won the next three games against Miller School, Norfolk Catholic and Hargrave. The annual Thanksgiving Day classic against Augusta, however, was a loss. The team did a fine job but were hindered all season by injuries.

Hoover off on long TD run.

Luongo scores TD.
